

Project Management Services

Project Management Expertise and Training

Chicago-based Labrynth, Inc. provides business and technology offerings to telecommunications and financial industry clients...

Project Management Expertise

Projects and project management (PM) are what Labrynth knows best. All of the work we do is project-based and we are experts in planning, controlling and delivering on our project commitments with high quality results, on time and within budget. Inherent in all Labrynth engagements is an underlying project management methodology. Through the course of our experience in managing projects and engagements for our telecommunications and financial services clients we have honed and developed specific skill-sets and methodologies, resulting in structured, well-managed engagements. As a result, our resources are skilled and effective project managers.

Project management is a process, an approach, a methodology... but more importantly, it is a mindset. Being a great project manager is all about understanding and consistently applying specific concepts, techniques and approaches. It is about creating a structured environment to manage a project's progress that allows for appropriate control while promoting creativity, personal growth and an optimal work environment. Project management is about leadership, responsibility, and accountability.

Project Management Services

Labrynth's project management services address every aspect of the project life-cycle - from initiation and planning to project closeout - and include areas such as quality planning, scope management, contract / financial management and risk management. Major project manager responsibilities include relationship management, contract management, financial management, task management and quality management. Labrynth works with clients to determine which aspects of our project management offerings will meet their needs.

Labrynth's consultants lead teams, facilitate change, communicate effectively and deliver results. Because our people have real-world expertise in a variety of areas including software development, technology integration, change management, training development and instruction, systems integration, testing, deployment and post-implementation support, we are uniquely qualified with the specific industry experience required to ensure success.

Project Management Training

Labrynth's project management training services are geared towards addressing the specific training needs of our clients. We offer a number of different project management training options focused on meeting your specific needs.

Whether your organization requires introductory courses to establish essential project management skills, common terminology and the ability to initiate, plan, execute and consistently deliver on project or you are looking to build on your organization's methodologies by introducing best-in-class project management tools and methodologies, Labrynth can design the right training program to meet your requirements. Training modules are typically 2 days in duration and leverage Labrynth's project management experience to provide participants with multiple tools, techniques, and templates, including key steps and considerations in developing project plans.

Labrynth Knows Project Management

Labrynth has worked with numerous telecommunications and financial services organizations, including many of the larger companies in the industry. Our project management training offerings, and our trainers, bring an outside, industry-wide perspective to your department or organization.

If you are interested in leveraging your own in-house training department and expertise, please inquire about Labrynth's Train-the-Trainer program.

The Labrynth DIFFERENCE

Labrynth's goal is to help our clients better manage their projects and initiatives, resulting in increased efficiencies and a higher quality end product. By leveraging Labrynth's project management services you can create efficiencies by integrating operations, systems, processes, and people.

Labrynth, Inc. is more than a consulting firm that provides one-dimensional solutions. Our consultants offer complete solutions, selectively used to meet the overall business objectives of our clients.

About Labrynth, Inc.

Labrynth, Inc. is a Chicago-based professional services firm specializing in Business and Technology Consulting, Project Management, and Call Center Operations. Using an approach that is based on people, process and technology, Labrynth, Inc. offers complete solutions, tightly coupled with the overall business objectives of our clients. Our consulting know-how, combined with project management skills and expertise, allow us to truly partner with our clients to achieve successful project delivery.

Labrynth's consultants lead teams, facilitate change, communicate effectively and deliver results.

Contact us today to find out what Labrynth can do for your organization.

Labrynth, Inc.
1147 W. Ohio St.
Suite 306
Chicago, IL 60622

(312) 829-1563 Phone
(312) 829-1560 Fax
www.labrynthconsulting.com